Nice and Easy

San Francisco designer Kelly Keiser shares ideas for keeping your home pretty and polished, even with children and pets.

FORGIVING FABRICS

"Look for fabrics that age well, like nubby washable linens and leather or patent leather. If you fall in love with a fabric that isn't kid-friendly, send the entire bolt to be sprayed with a stain-resisting treatment such as Nano-Tex." nano-tex.com

MINI SLIPCOVERS

To minimize wear and tear, Keiser has matching covers sewn to protect the parts of upholstery that get the most use, such as the top of an ottoman or the headrest of dining room chairs.
